President’s Message

Sometimes genealogists, are so busy looking for a piece of information to further our ancestral lines that we may forget to keep up on our own genealogical education.

I have found that taking time for learning is just as valuable as looking for records. It can provide that one piece of information that guides you to just what you were looking for. I was so frustrated in my Vermont land record search that I put it away for a few weeks. I decided I needed to learn more about Vermont land records because, obviously, I was doing something wrong. Well, I was, kind of. I knew how to find “Vermont” land records, but I didn’t realize early, pre-Revolutionary War records would be found in New Hampshire and/or New York. Learning about the history of the area was vital to my research success. This is where educating yourself can help in your research.

Currently, I schedule one day a week to educate myself on topics in genealogy. I use Wednesday. It is also known as Webinar Wednesday at Legacy Family Tree. I put dinner in the crockpot and use all day Wednesday to catch up on journal reading, watch webinars, or conduct self-study with a book. My newest book, “The Magic of German Church Record: Finding the Key to Your Ancestor’s Past” by Katherine Schober is a good one. I couldn’t wait until Wednesday to read it when it came. I dug right in, but usually I have a stack of reading materials waiting to be read.

There are many types of genealogical education. Here are a few I have found helpful and I hope you will too. Blogs, books, magazines and journals, podcasts, television shows, You Tube videos, webinars, wiki’s, online courses, virtual fairs, conferences, workshops and our own society meetings. Whatever area of genealogical education you are interested in, there is something for everyone.

Don’t forget two important opportunities for expanding your knowledge: the Abrams Foundation Family History Seminar and MGC’s Fall Family History Event. It won’t be long before the Abrams Foundation seminar will be upon us. Save the date of July 10th and 11th for this seminar. The guest speaker will be Judy Russell aka The Legal Genealogist. I have had the pleasure of hearing Judy speak a few times. She is one of those speakers that once you hear her speak, you will want to hear more from her. I would say she is in the top ten of genealogy speakers. A speaker that you should hear. More information will be coming about the seminar in a few weeks, but if you are looking for a way to educate yourself, you won’t find a better way than to hear Judy Russell speak.

Sincerely,

Brenda Leyndyke,
President Michigan Genealogical Council

MGC Meetings and Coronavirus Information

The March delegate meeting was cancelled due to coronavirus concerns. MGC takes your health and well-being seriously and it is especially important for us to mitigate risk for potentially vulnerable populations, including those who live with immune compromised individuals. The MGC board will continue to monitor the situation in the months ahead.

We will look at the State Department of Health and Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommendations when deciding to hold our events.

The board hopes all our society members stay healthy. Please check our event calendar at mimgc.org for up to date information on events.

Irish Research

Abigail Eynon provided a tale of the immigration of Irish Catholic nationals into what would become the State of Michigan. She presented at the Farmington Genealogical Society meeting.

Western Wayne County Genealogical Society presented Beginning Irish Genealogy. Cathy Cottone, gave a great talk on ways to begin working on your Irish family ancestry. Cathy also showed a case study of finding her McCarthy family in the Beara Peninsula of County Cork Ireland at the Lyon Twp. Public Library. Griffith’s Valuation is a property tax survey carried out in the mid-1800’s under the supervision of Sir Richard Griffith. The survey involved the detailed valuation of every taxable piece of agricultural or built property on the island of Ireland and was published county-by-county between the years 1847 and 1864.

The Irish Genealogical Society of Michigan presented the ‘Do’s and Don’t of Cemetery Research’.

Family History Library Temporarily Closes Due to CoronaVirus
Out of concern for the health and safety of our guests, volunteers, and staff, the Family History Library in Salt Lake City will temporarily close starting at 5:00 p.m. on Friday, March 13, 2020 until further notice. This closure is to support preventive efforts to control the spread of COVID-19.

Regional FamilySearch centers and libraries have been asked to consider the direction of their local and government leaders, and then make informed decisions about temporary closures. If you plan to visit a FamilySearch center soon, please call ahead to ensure it is open at the regular times.

We appreciate your understanding and encourage you to use the vast genealogical resources available at FamilySearch.org to continue your family discoveries. During the time the Family History Library is closed, personal assistance will continue to be provided online through FamilySearch Communities and Family History Library Classes and Webinars.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this closure may cause. For the latest Family History Library status updates, please refer to the FamilySearch newsroom.

Sincerely,
David E. Rencher
Director of the Family History Library

My Heritage in Color™
Based on deep learning technology, MyHeritage In Color™ brings your family history to life, revealing never-before-seen details — the results will blow you away!

This feature uses the world’s most advanced technology for photo colorization, which is available exclusively on MyHeritage and is under license from DeOldify, created by Jason Antic and Dana Kelley. It allows you to do more than look at old photos — it lets you experience them, creating a deeper connection with your family history than you ever thought possible.

A Commitment to Authentic Preservation
Moreover, as part of our commitment to preserving the authenticity of historical documents, colorized photos will appear with a special embossed palette symbol at the bottom left corner of the photo to differentiate them from images photographed originally in color. All original black and white photos will, of course, remain intact and are not changed by the colorization process.

Editor: I tried it and it looks good. Original is safe and not changed.

Newspapers.com Adds Obituaries

Subscription genealogy giant Ancestry.com has curated what it’s calling the world’s largest obituary database. Using artificial intelligence, Ancestry.com extracted and indexed names, relationships and other facts from millions of digitized obituaries on its sister site, Newspapers.com. The resulting collection contains almost a billion searchable names pulled from more than 250 million death announcements from the United States and beyond. Ancestry.com subscribers may search the “Newspapers.com Obituary Index, 1880s-current” index on that site:

St. Piran’s Day
Patron Saint of Cornwall and Tin Miners

Before the CoronaVirus we would have held our annual meeting on March 14 with a pasty luncheon and program. St. Piran’s Day is officially on March 5 and a national day for Cornwall which is celebrated with many parades in the towns.

“St. Piran’s Day was said to be a favorite with the tinners who having a tradition that some secrets regarding the manufacture of tin were communicated to their ancestors by that saint, they leave the manufacture to shift for itself for that day, and keep it as a holiday.

‘Perrantide’, is the week leading up to 5 March. The day following St Piran’s Day was known by many as ‘Mazey Day’, a term which has now been adopted by the revived Golowan festival in Penzance.

The Legend of St. Piran

St. Piran was born in Ireland. After studying scriptures in Rome he returned and was made a Bishop. In Ireland he was said to have performed many miracles, such as raising from the dead soldiers slain in battle. But the kings of Ireland at the time were not impressed.

He had a millstone around his neck and was thrown off a cliff into the sea, but miraculously, he floated across the water to Perran Beach in Perranporth, Cornwall. It was here he built a small chapel. He built his oratory amongst the sand dunes. People would come from miles around to hear him preach.

St. Piran discovered tin too but quite by accident. A black stone on his fire released a white liquid. The flag of Cornwall, St. Piran’s flag is a white cross on a black background. The white represents the tin flowing from the black rock representing good overcoming evil.
News con’t:

St Piran is believed to have lived 200 years. He was fond of his drink and met his end falling down a well. No date of his death was recorded.

On the Sunday closest to St. Piran’s Day the people of Perranporth enjoy the annual celebrations and procession to St. Piran’s Oratory and the nearby 1000 year old Celtic Cross to remember the Cornish saint, St. Piran.

Concerning Donations

Michigan Genealogical Council has decided to change the way donations are collected to Stern-NARA Fund, Library of Michigan, and Archives of Michigan. In the past, MGC has accepted these donations when societies paid their dues. MGC is asking member societies who wish to donate to these three organizations to send their donations directly to the recipient.

The Stern-NARA fund was passed through to Federation of Genealogical Societies (FGS). FGS will be merging with NGS in the coming year. During this process FGS has worked on tightening up their fundraising process and related compliance requirements for each state when fundraising may occur or where donors may reside. Faye Stalling, President of Federation of Genealogical Societies, notified us that FGS will no longer accept checks made payable to the Stern-NARA gift fund. If you have donated in the last year to this fund, MGC will be sending your society a check for the donation amount you sent to MGC.

MGC is recommending that any donations you would like to make to NARA go to the NARA Foundation.

Donations to NARA may be made online https://www.archivesfoundation.org/donate/ or by mail:
National Archives Foundation
700 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20408-0001

Donations to the Library of Michigan may be sent to:

Lansing, MI 48901

Donations to the Archives of Michigan may be sent to:
Michigan History Foundation

Pioneer and Statehood Certificate How To Videos

The Clarkston Genealogy Society is excited about the Pioneer and First Family designations created by the Michigan Genealogical Council. Our society held two workshops in January and February at our local library to help our members as well as the general public learn about the designations and how to apply for them for their families who were early residents of Michigan. Our members worked with the people who came to the workshop and shared ideas for proofs for their applications.

Members of the Clarkston Genealogy Society decided to create three You Tube videos so that people could consider ideas discussed at the workshops in their own homes, if they became stuck with a proving a generation. The generations before 1850 seem to be the hardest for applicants to prove.

The Clarkston Genealogy Society is sharing our You Tube videos for members or others in Michigan who would like to complete an application for Pioneer or First Family designation. We ask that you give credit to the Clarkston Genealogy Society if you decide to place them on your website or share with your members. This project was entirely paid for and edited by the Clarkston Genealogy Society and is not connected with the Michigan Genealogical Council.

Part 1  https://youtu.be/0BwGeA4KR_g
Part 2  https://youtu.be/IKez27T0pxI
Part 3  https://youtu.be/R0vKTmVbrfA

The Clarkston Genealogy Society is willing to share with other genealogy organizations. This is not a perfect video but we hope that it gives others information to fill out the application and helps them formulate questions to ask further questions.

During this time with the COVID 19 virus distancing when many of us are at home, we hope that you find these helpful if you are working on your application or other genealogy you are doing.

Jan Steven Zaleski

Jan Steven Zaleski was born in Detroit, MI, and was currently working as a civilian detention officer with the Detroit Police Department. He became interested in his Polish ancestry in 1983, and began researching microfilmed records for his Polish ancestral parishes in 1989. By 1990, he had documented his Polish ancestry back to the 1770s, and had acquired sufficient fluency in Polish, German, Russian and Latin documents, to complete the accreditation requirements of the LDS/Mormon Family History Library. From 1990-1995, he was an Accredited Genealogist with a Specialty in Polish Research.

From 1984-1999, he was a member of the Board of Directors of the Polish Genealogical Society of Michigan, and served in various capacities, including President. Since 1991, he has served as a volunteer librarian at the LDS Family History Centre in Westland, Michigan. From May, 1992, until Spring, 2001, he was Editor of the Polish Eaglet, the official journal of the Polish Genealogical Society of Michigan. In the early days he was involved with the Sweetest Heart of Mary Cemetery project.

Mr. Zaleski has been a frequent speaker at meetings and seminars of PGS-Michigan, in addition to lectures for the United Polish Genealogical Societies (UPGS) Conferences, the Federation of Eastern European Family History Societies (FEFHS) Conferences, the Michigan Genealogical Council, and various Societies in the metropolitan Detroit area. In 1996, he published “Guide to Border Crossing Records on LDS Microfilm: Accessing 1,500 Reels Documenting Crossings into the United States from Canada, 1895-1954.” He also had over 25 years as researcher at Westland Family Historical Center, over 40 years as researcher/speaker for Polish Genealogical Society of Michigan.

He had recently enjoyed a trip to Salt Lake City with his dear friend Kathleen LaBudie-Szakall.

The Speaker’s List is updated. Thank you to Tom Koselka for updating this. Sign in under “member society log in”, then select “secure download” and “speaker program list Nov 2019.”

2020 Census

It cannot be said strongly enough – EVERYONE in our state needs to be enumerated on the 2020 Census! Michigan stands to lose an estimated $1,800 per person per year in federal support for programs that use census data. These include Medicaid, nutrition assistance, highway construction and planning, Title I and Special Education Grants, Foster Care and Child Care Grants, K-12 education, Section 8 Vouchers, and Head Start/Early Start – key programs that thousands of our citizens need! As an example, the State of Michigan received more than $14 billion in 2015 from the enumeration of 2010.

Information, the timeline for the key dates, fast facts, media messages, translated materials, recordings of TV/radio ads and informational flyers and more can be accessed from this site: www.becountedmi2020.com. Regional census “Hubs” – locations for obtaining in-person information, getting questions answered and supportive resources – are located here: https://becountedmi2020.com/engage/

Please share with your neighbors, watch for advertising about the census on TV, radio, billboards and more. Your help and support in reaching out to your neighbors and friends is key to success for our state!

NATIVE AMERICAN GENEALOGY – HIDDEN FILES TELL AMAZING STORIES!

Presenter, Chris Czopek “Lansing’s History Detective”

The Western Michigan Genealogy Society was to host Chris Czopek, on March 7. He was to reveal a recently discovered new source of information on Native American families in Michigan – Civil War pension files!

1st Michigan Sharpshooters Company K

In time of war, Native American men have always volunteered to fight for their land. The Civil War was no different. When a soldier fell on the field of a battle, his widow could apply for a pension. Same thing for a son who was the sole source of support for his mother. And the surviving soldiers still alive in the 1890s could receive a pension. But there was always one catch – documents! The government insisted on marriage records from the widows, birth records from the mothers, and for the old soldiers receiving a pension, the government asked they list the wife and children and give their birth dates. All those rare documents sent in for a pension still exist, buried in an archive in Washington D.C.

For the Native American community, those Pension Files are a gold-mine of information! Considered an expert on these Pension Files, Chris was to bring with him a list of over 100 available pension files and talk about what kind of documents they contain. We would have heard some interesting stories about the Chippewa, Ottawa, and Potawatomi families of Michigan!
Chris grew up in Michigan during the Civil War Centennial. As a boy, he would watch a Civil War movie on TV – then go to the library and find out how much of the story was true. This was the beginning of his career as a "history detective".

After college he worked for a newspaper, joined the army and served six years in Military Intelligence, volunteered for an archaeological dig in Israel, worked as a tour guide at the State Capitol Building in Lansing, a photographer for the State Senate, and in the offices of the Michigan State Police. He currently lives in Lansing with his wife, Bonnie.

In recent years Chris has become well known to Michigan historians for his expert research of Civil War soldiers. Called “Lansing’s History Detective" by the Lansing State Journal, he has published several books on Civil War history and has been a consultant for The History Channel. His most recent project, a documentary titled ROAD TO ANDERSONVILLE, is the first film to tell the story of Company K.

Chris is best known as the author of Who Was Who In Company K, the first book to give solid facts about the Native American men who served in the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters.

The Waterford Genealogical Society and Pioneer Certificate chair, Kim Smith, presented two more Pioneer Certificates and pins at a recent Waterford meeting. WGS Member Claire Pryor applied for both categories for one ancestral couple and submitted them together, thereby requiring only one set of documents.

All Michigan Genealogical Council member societies are encouraged to promote and then work with members, and others interested, in submitting a well documented Michigan Pioneer Certificate application. Clarkston Genealogical Society recently held a follow up certificate workshop. What a great way to get the community involved. Thank you, Clarkston, for participating.

The Pioneer Certificate Program offers a great opportunity to celebrate, honor and preserve the history of your Michigan ancestors, with a goal of having well documented lineages of our pioneers.

As a reminder-two categories are offered at the nominal fee of $25.00 per certificate: Pre-Statehood (before January 26, 1837) and First Families (January 26, 1837 - December 31, 1880). Each certificate is custom designed and comes with a corresponding lapel pin.

The Pioneer Certificate application and a promotional brochure are available to download on their website: mimgc.org

Government Site Uploaded Marriage Registers for 1845-1864

All Civil registers of 1845-1944 are Online For Free Access Irish Genealogy.ie has uploaded marriage registers for the period 1845-1864, which means that all of the civil registers of marriages for the period 1845-1944 are now online - and free to access. Only civil registers kept prior to 1864 were for non-Catholic marriages. There are no civil records of births, deaths, or marriages before that date—but not all have survived nor are all online.

Go to: https://civilrecords.irishgenealogy.ie/churchrecords/civil-search.jsp These are the civil records now available on the site:
Births: 1864-1919: images and index
Marriages: 1845-1944: images and index
Deaths: 1864-1877: index only;
1878-1969: images and index

Jews in Ireland — While always a small Jewish community in Ireland it is an established community. In addition, a number of Jews immigrated to Ireland in the late 19th and 20th centuries whose families were from central Europe, due to the pogroms, and especially from Lithuania. Jews also stopped in Ireland along the way to immigrating to North America—and may have lived there for a few years. You never know what an Irish vital record may reveal!

(US-MA) Massachusetts Governor Budget Proposal to Close Births and Deaths for 90 years and Marriages for 50 Years

Massachusetts Governor Charlie Baker is proposing a draconian change in his state which has been renowned for open records since 1641: to keep birth records and death certificates closed for 90 years and marriage notices closed for 50 years. Currently, these vital records may be viewed or purchased by the public at local town halls or city halls and the state’s records registry without waiting with few exceptions. Only a person’s parent, attorney or by judicial order are the exceptions. Another change would require the certificates to include only “information minimally necessary to establish fact of birth, death or marriage.”

The governor’s office said this would shield potentially sensitive personal information and mirror “national best practices”. This is part of the National Association of Public Health Statistics and Information Systems, (NAPHSIS) system which has never been approved by the federal government and NAPHSIS is currently considering modifying their 1992 model act which may include relaxed embargo periods to access records.

If enacted this legislation would “radically scale back access to records that could help identify health trends, boost genealogical research, and allow reporters to fact-check basic details.”

(US-Utah) Bill Being Drafted to Block Law Enforcement From Accessing Home DNA Test Kits

A bill being drafted for the 2020 session of the Utah State Legislature would block law enforcement from accessing DNA collected from DNA home test kits. The bill if enacted would prohibit mass searching of DNA databases. The bill’s author, Representative Craig Hall (R-West Valley) said “If law enforcement wants to search the DNA, then they should have some kind of suspect in mind.”

He believes that when someone takes a home DNA test to find out about their family history they do not necessarily intend for law enforcement to use it to potentially solve a crime. Rep. Hall said he did not believe police should be able to just raid these databases being used for genealogical purposes without a suspect in mind. The bill is supported by the ACLU. The decision was in response to a Globe lawsuit seeking millions of copies birth and marriage certificates — the very type of records to which Baker now wants to narrow access.

Roscommon County Genealogical Society newsletter
Jack Darrell Crowder taught school. And I’m guessing he taught history. And I’m guessing he jump-started a love of history for a lot of students who discovered a new excitement for history, because if he enriched his classes with such stories as he’s written into his books, then his teaching has left a personal legacy.

These books are not written in standard textbook style. They’re narrative, short-story style. Full of anecdotes, full of stories, some less than half a page long, some slightly more than a page, but most so short they’re quickly read and then on to the next one. So it’s good leisure reading, bedside reading, travel reading, as there is no thread of a story to lose. You can pick it up, read for awhile about American history, and then put it down and get dinner started.

The stories are human-based instead of the straight recitation of the facts; dates and places are just the circumstances surrounding the events that happened to real people. One story:

At the Battle of Red Bank on October 22, 1777 over 600 Americans repelled 900 Hessian troops who were trying to take Fort Mercer. During the battle Mrs. Whitall was in a room in her home inside the fort. She was on the second floor spinning on her wheel trying to pass time during the battle. A British cannon ball entered the attic just above her. The cannon ball rolled across the floor, down the stairs and landed at the foot of the stairs no more than ten feet from where she was sitting. She got up and took her spinning wheel to the basement and continued her spinning.

Strange, Amazing, and Funny Events that Happened during the Revolutionary War, p. 52.

There are drawings and maps to supplement the stories. The books are nicely formatted for easy reading. At the end of each story the author cites his source. There is a bibliography and index in the back of each book. These are interesting books to have, even for adults. I say, even for adults, as these books are ideal for a young person interested in reading about this particular time in a form that is far more interesting than the textbooks they have at school.

I suspect this teacher thumbed through the textbooks the school administration assigned to his classes, and decided that he needed to rewrite history.

But in a far more interesting way.

Free U.S. Genealogy Directory

LDSGenealogy.com has been working for 13 years to develop an extensive U.S. genealogy directory to help people to easily locate the available genealogy records for a specific town, county, or state. While we are linking to 944,000 records from 587 sources so far, we know that we could be linking to many more valuable online records, particularly smaller websites with local genealogy records. We are inviting members of the genealogy community to review the list of sites and archives we are currently including in our U.S. genealogy records directory and contact us with suggestions on what else could be added.

The Keepers
By Lindsey Russell

Do you know the keepers of family history in your family? As a genealogist, your first instinct is to answer “yes, of course!” Sometimes we try too hard to solve our burning questions when posing the correct question to the correct person is all that is needed. Keepers of family lore may or may not be the same as the family genealogist. As with so many things in my life, I found this out the hard way.

This simple mistake kept me from resolving one of my roadblocks for years — and eventually accidently asking the right questions in front of the right person led to a resolution. In my Forward family history, I knew that the family hunting camp in Kenton, Michigan passed down from Laurentious Forward, who homesteaded the property, to my Forward ancestors. While I could find documentation to prove that Laurentious did indeed homestead the property, I could not find how he related to my branches of the Forward family tree. What was the relationship?

Last year, I discovered that my great grandmother, Leona Clara Forward Buttrick, had a brother who died in infancy. No one in the family knew this. As I shared this new information with my Aunt Amy, it prompted me to share with her the roadblocks I’d been working on recently. As soon as I mentioned that I had been searching for Laurentious’s connection to our family for years, she simply stated: “Oh. He was A.G.’s cousin,” A.G. referring to my second-great grandfather Austin George Forward, Leona’s father.
Keepers con’t:

While my aunt isn’t exactly into genealogy, she has collected many family stories, lore, and heirlooms over the years. I never thought to ask her. By simply directly asking the question, I now have a connection to prove. It also highlighted why I couldn’t prove it earlier: The connection could easily be proved using the 1890 census. Now I will have to use other means to prove it. Lesson learned: Don’t automatically assume those who aren’t as interested in genealogy don’t know the information you need to smash through those walls.

Wreaths across America
By Sue Cromwell

I am sure most, if not all, of you have heard about the process of putting wreaths on military stones at the various military cemeteries across the U.S. On Saturday, December 14, 2019, myself, my brother and his wife volunteered to place wreaths at the Veteran Cemetery in Holly, MI. At noon, there was a short ceremony. Then, the various trucks entered the cemetery and parked all over the area. People lined up at each truck to receive 2 wreaths apiece. We were asked to place the top of the wreath just below the veteran’s name, step back, say “Thank you for your service, and the soldier’s name”, and then either salute or put your right hand over your heart. It was a very humbling experience.

We made sure we put a wreath on my parents’ stone – my father was in the Army Air Corps during World War II – and my mother was a USO Hostess and that is how they came to meet each other.

We also made sure my youngest brother’s stone received a wreath. He was in the Air Force in California. Not every stone in every veteran cemetery gets a wreath, unfortunately. We found out that the number of wreaths ordered for one cemetery, for example the Holly Cemetery, are based on the amount of donations received by that cemetery. The Holly Cemetery received enough money to purchase 12,400 wreaths for a cemetery that has about 40,000 veterans buried there now. Each wreath is about a $15.00 donation, from what we were told.

Library of Michigan Update!

There have been many great things going on at the Library of Michigan. Work will be starting soon on a new display in our Lake Erie Room. The display will focus on the construction of I-496 and the effects on local neighborhoods. The display is being created by the Greater Lansing Historical Society. Please check our website event calendar later in March for more details. The Michigan Notable Books for 2020 list was released in January. To view the list, please visit our website: WWW.MICHIGAN.GOV/NOTABLEBOOKS. Additionally, planning in underway for the Michigan Notable Books author tour. Please check the above website in late March for more details.

Staff have been out presenting at different genealogical societies and libraries such as: Salem South Lyon Library, Pontiac Public Library, and Rochester Hills Public Library to name a few. Please do not hesitate to contact us at librarian@michigan.gov if you have any questions concerning presentation opportunities.

The Library of Michigan recently added 2 databases to our resources. Within the library, researchers have access to both Fold3 and Newspapers.com. Please stop by and use these tools for your family history research projects.

If you have questions, please call us at 517-335-1477.

Archives of Michigan News & Notes

Spring is here! With the ever-expanding Michigan probate records project, new onsite collections and print resources and the upcoming Barbara J. Brown Family History Seminar, there is much this season to be excited about and participate in here at the Archives of Michigan.

Be sure to mark your calendars for the 2020 Barbara J. Brown Family History Seminar to be held July 10-11, 2020. We are thrilled to have “The Legal Genealogist” Judy G. Russell as the featured speaker; she will give 3 programs during the event: “No Person Shall ... Gallop Horses in the Streets” – Using Court Records to Tell the Story of Our Ancestors’ Lives, Just Three Generations, and That Scoundrel George. Hosted by the Archives of Michigan and Michigan Genealogical Council, the Seminar is generously supported by the Abrams Foundation. Registration information and the full program schedule will soon be posted online, we look forward to seeing everyone here in July.

The Archives of Michigan continues to add new source material to our holdings, particularly local government records. Many of these original records are not available online, so all the more reason to visit us here onsite! New archival collections include:

- Cheboygan County Probate Court Records, 1922-1939 / RG 2019-158

Archives staff continues to work with local probate officials throughout the staff to transfer their historic records to the Archives of Michigan. The list above will continue to grow in the coming days and months.

In addition to the original source material above, the Archives continues to add new published material to the Abrams Foundation Historical Collection. New additions to the Collection include:

- Churches of Hancock County, Ohio, Past and Present / Hancock County Chapter, OGS / 2003

- Selected Final Pension Payment Vouchers, 1818-1864. Maryland: Baltimore / Alycon Trubey Pierce / 1997

The Archives thanks our generous donors, supporters and friends, including, of course, the Abrams Foundation and the Michigan Genealogical Council.

As always, please contact us at archives@michigan.gov with any questions about the Archives and our collections, services, or digitization projects.

We look forward to working with everyone in 2020 and beyond!

MICHIGAN GENEALOGICAL COUNCIL

ANNUAL MEETING

May 14, 2020

Candidate for only Office to be Elected

DIRECTOR: Larry Noyes

One DIRECTOR position is scheduled for election during the Annual Meeting. MGC has three DIRECTOR positions with one DIRECTOR elected every year for a three year term. Due to the cancellation of the March 12 Delegate Meeting, the above slate was unable to be presented.

An opportunity will be provided at the Annual Meeting on May 14, for nominations for the position of DIRECTOR to be made.

Hopefully, by mid-May, concerns about convening large public meetings will have abated and the MGC Annual Meeting will proceed as scheduled.

MGC Donates Historic Photographs to Archives of Michigan

MGC was given historic photographs of people throughout the state of Michigan that were taken by a variety of photographers. Some of the photographs were from Escanaba, Ste St. Marie, Kalamazoo, Owosso, and other areas in Michigan.

MGC donated these photographs to the Archives of Michigan. The Archives of Michigan has other historical photographs, and these will be added to their collection.

Michigan Genealogical Council

Founded in 1972, the Michigan Genealogical Council is an organization composed of two delegates from each member society. Its objectives are to locate, preserve, publish and deposit in suitable repositories records of value to genealogists and to initiate activities which encourage and assist those who are involved in genealogical research. Meetings are held in the Forum of the the Library of Michigan and Historical Center, 702 W. Kalamazoo St., Lansing, MI 48909 on the second Thursday in September, November, January, March, May, and July. Board meetings are held at the Archives of Michigan on the second Thursday of each month. Membership is open to any Michigan genealogical or family history society, amateur or professional, with a primary interest in genealogy. Dues are no longer calculated on a "per person" basis, but rather a flat rate based on general society membership at the close of their fiscal year. Checks should be made payable to the Michigan Genealogical Council and mailed to MGC P.O., Box 80953, Lansing, MI 48908-0953. Website: www.mimgc.org.

The Newsletter is published quarterly by the Michigan Genealogical Council. It is mailed to all delegates and presidents of member societies. Content for Winter issue due Dec. 15, Spring March 15, Summer June 15 and Fall Sept. 15. E-Mail newsletter items to MGC Editor: HainesC@msu.edu or send to P.O. Box 80953, Lansing, MI 48918-0953.
